

How to join Rowing Canada and sign up for St. John's Rowing Club programs

1. Go to membership.rowingcanada.org/Home:

re | <https://membership.rowingcanada.org/Home>

Welcome to the RCA Web Registration System!

RCA has developed this online registration system in commitment to our mission to provide and manage services and programs for the membership. You will be taken through a few brief screens where you will be asked to include contact information for the rowing program you wish to join.

When using this site, please use the navigation buttons provided. Do not use navigation buttons on your web-browser. Pressing the  button on any page will provide additional assistance.

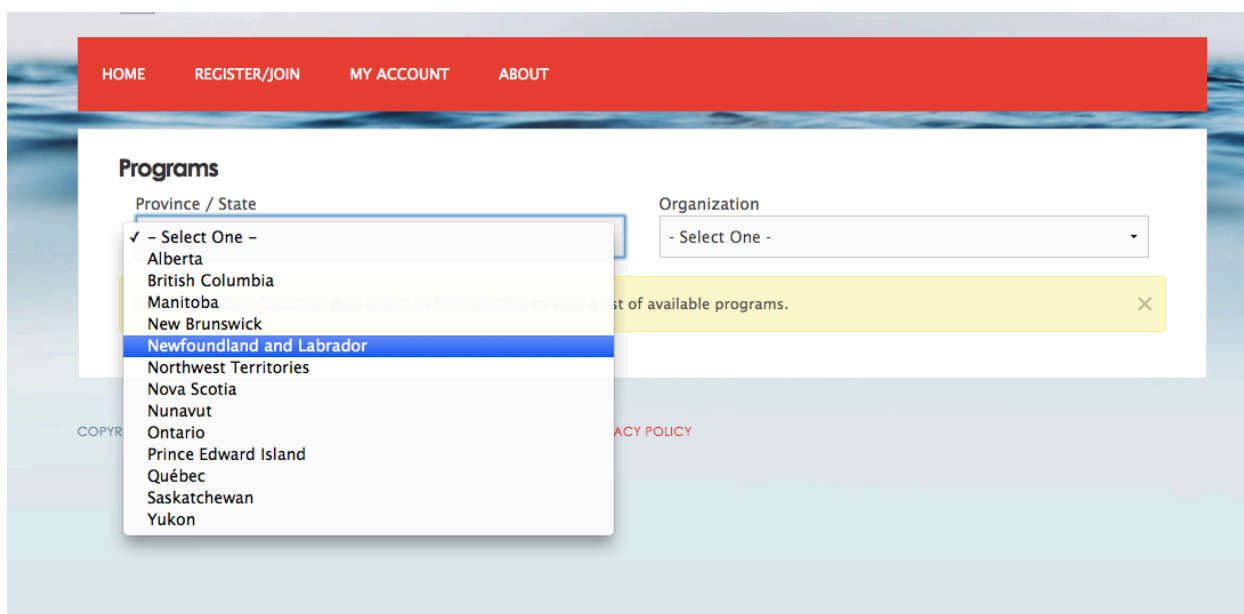

Thank-you for your support!

2. Click on "register/join" – second button from the left in the red menu bar – and you will see this:

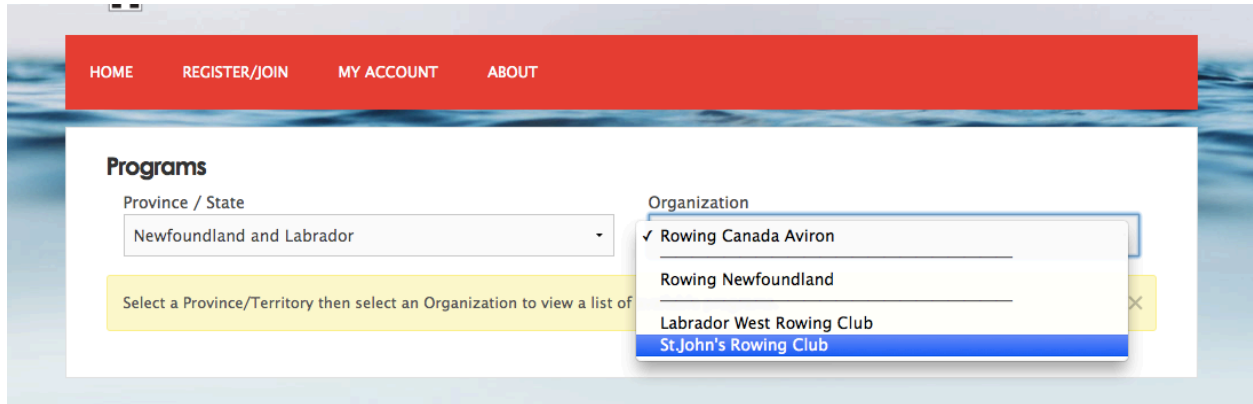

3. Click on "Join a program," under "For Programs."

You will see the next menu, which asks you to select a province. Click on that and select "Newfoundland and Labrador." (duh...)

4. Then click on "select one" under "Organization" and choose St. John's Rowing Club. (duh again...)

5. Now you will see a menu with a list of programs. As of when we are made these instructions, there are only three programs set up:

- Competitive Abroad is for affiliates of our club who are not living in St. John's
- Junior Competitive is the highest level of youth rowing.
- Youth Learn to Row is the youth novice program. (It costs more than the others because it is much more time than the others.)

But now the adult rowing and junior mid-level programs should also be there, so you should find the right program for you - the general instructions are the same.

Click "Join" for the program that interests you.

7. You then get a couple of screens in which you fill in various information (name, address, and the like). If you are registering your child for youth learn to row, please create the account in the rower's name, not the parent's name.

8. Then you get to a screen where you have to agree to a number of things – waivers, that you are the legal guardian if you are registering your child, and so on. (Please create the membership in the child's name, however, not the parent's name – it's much easier for us to keep track.) There are seven different places where you have to check that you agree! Maybe even eight? Not our fault, this is Rowing Canada's system.

About swim tests: If the member is under 16, they must take a swim test and bring a completed swim test form to the first practice. Anyone over 16 simply has to agree that they know how to swim. If you don't know how to swim, you do not want to row. Boats flip. You can find yourself upside down in the water.

Once you have checked everything that you possibly can, you should be able to click on a red button saying "AGREE" which is in the middle of that page (not at the bottom).

9. Now you are registered for the program you chose, and you are offered the option of paying on line. If you can do so at this time, please do! It makes the accounting much simpler. If you prefer to pay by check, please pay when the program begins. If you need to pay in installments, please talk to us about it. Some limited financial aid is also available for youth rowers; please talk to us about that as well.
